The Miner's Sacrifice, Thrilling West

In the powerful feature picture at the Breed theater for this week there a stirring story depicted under the the of The Miner's Sacrifice. This is thoroughly were a stirring at the control of the Miner's Sacrifice. This is title of The Miner's Sacrifice. This is a thoroughly western picture and shows some new and interesting views of this portion of the country, with a brilliant plot and spirited acting. A young easterner is accused of jumping a claim, and is pursued by an anary mob, who captures him, and are about to lynch him when the real guilty party hears of the affair and, although wounded unto death in a saloon brawl, he manages to reach the tenne of the lynching just in time to save the innocent tenderfoot.

A picture selected for amusement purposes only is the one entitled The Feud. The title is somewhat a misnomer, for the character of the picture is wholly comedy, but the fun arises from disagreements caused by arises from disagreements caused by a feud of former years. It keeps the house in an uproar all of the time, the delightfully refreshing and refined comedy appealing to all.

THE CORN EXHIBITION.

Plans to Have Indiana Man to Arrange

Exhibit at Worcester This Fall. N. Howard Brewer of Hockanum and I. C. Fanton of Westport were in Worcester, Mass., on Saturday making plans for the corn show to be given there by the New England Corn Show association during the first week in November. Leonard B. Clore of Franklin, Ind., a member of the Indiana general assembly, will take charge of the exhibition. He has taken, an active part in the national corn exhibitions which have been given in the middle west and is a prominent resident of his state.

It was determined to make an effort to secure the complete exhibit of the department of agriculture at Wash-ageon and plans were made for the department of agriculture at Washington and plans were made for the decoration of the exhibition hall at Worcester. It was decided to have the front of the building decorated wholly with corn, which will be used in the borders around the windows and for the outline of the building front. At each door there will be a drapery effect made entirely of parts of the cornstalk or of corn kernels. Corn in its various parts is credited with being the best decorative material, and, according to Mr. Clore, it will be used in artistic effects at the exhibit.

It was decided to give the agriculurai colleges of the six New England tates a free hand as to the display of her own exhibits. Mr. Clore won pedals at the Paris exposition and the tighest awards at the Chicago national corn exposition, competing against 13.-000 entries. He also obtained the highest award at the Omaha national highest award at the Omaha national corn exposition, competing there against 18,000 entries, and the grand prize at the St. Louis exposition.

Mr. Clore's home and equipments on his farm of 128 acres at Franklin, Ind., are filled with prize winning articles, such as automobiles, pianos and a complete line of farm machinery. Aside from these, he has in the just four years won mora than $2,000 in cash and a 150 acre farm in Texas.

The Russian government offered him $1,000 a year to go to the provinces of southern Russia to develop a corn sultable to that soil and conditions, but he declined the offer.

The Importance of the Judiciary. The people of Tennessee very sennot be hampered in any way by par-tisan politics. They have therefore elected an independent judiciary ticket by an overwhelming vote thereby de-feating the political machines. The importance of this move cannot be overestimated. If the majority of be overestimated. If the majority of a state is not above suspicion from interference on the part of political influences its usefulness is ended. The more the judiciary question is manined the more convinced everyone will be that the safety of American Institutions depends on the section of judges of unquestioned honesty and ability. The consequence will be that in every state the courts will be strengthened by the selection of judiciats whose services to the country will be invaluable, for their decisions will be rendered without regard to the third of the selection of globe.

HOW STATE EDITORS TALK.

Mayor Thayer of Norwich made the mistake of his campaign in neglecting to bring his senatorial boom over to the reunion, Wednesday, and have it inflated. It was inflation day at the Rock.—New Haven Palladium.

Mayor Thayer can inflate his own boom and have hot air left over. He did not need to lay out two dollars. did not need to lay out two dollars to get inflated at the Rock. And the difference between inflating Mayor Thayer and inflating his boom might have been perilous to peace.—Bridgeport Standard.

The law's delay is conspicuously illustrated in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett of Brooklyn, who for ten years have ben litingating the question which should obtain the divorce from the other. It all turned on the legality of Mrs. Everett's president

The productivity of Mayor Thayer's funny bone is astonishing. Its resources are seemingly undiminished and its output is the same. It is very much like the farmer's cider which he said was "godd enough, what there was of it and enough of it, such as it was." - Bridgeport Standard.

Bridgeport's gloat. Bailey is the mos popular man down that way just nov since P. T. Barnum, and for Bridge port the names of Barnum and Bailey have a newer and grander significance than ever before.—New Haven Union.

Having climbed to second place in the list of Connecticut cities, Bridgeport is now credited with a determination to give New Haven a hustle for first place by the time the census of 1920 is due. Bridgeport is presumptions. Overhauling Hartford is one thing catching up with New Haven is quite another.—New Haven Palladium.
